Barry Herrin, Scouting Coordinator
Southeastern Jurisdiction, United Methodist Men

Barry is an Eagle Scout, and his track record and service to Scouting is one that is equaled by few. Since he joined Troop 402 in Valdosta, Georgia in September of 1976, he has been active in some Scouting role almost without ceasing. In his over 40-year Scouting career, he has held every job within a Cub Scout Pack except Cubmaster and Assistant Cubmaster, every job in a Boy Scout Troop, every job in an Explorer Post except Post Advisor, and every job in a Venturing Crew except Associate Advisor. He has served as a chartered organization representative for two different churches and worked in numerous volunteer positions at the district, council, and national level. Barry is a Wood Badge trained Scouter (Class SR-1) and is a Brotherhood member in the Order of the Arrow. He currently serves as Chaplain to Troop 254 in Cumming and Chair of the Religious Relations Committee for the Northeast Georgia Council.

Barry Herrin is an accomplished attorney and business advisor with over 25 years of experience in the legal, health care, insurance, and nonprofit industries. He has represented clients across the United States and has active client relationships throughout the Southeast. He is currently the founder of Herrin Health Law, P.C., a boutique law firm with offices in Cumming and Atlanta specializing in representing persons and entities in the health care industry. In addition to his deep experience in the health care industry, Barry has been involved in board governance and executive leadership for both clients and community-based non-profits. During his career, he has established over 25 non-profit corporations, foundations, and tax-exempt public charities. He has served on the executive committee of a national charitable organization administering a federal program budget of over $25 million and deploying over $100 million in assets throughout the United States, Puerto Rico, and the U.S. Virgin Islands. As a professional and community volunteer, he has served on organizational boards of directors for school foundations and associations of healthcare executives, health information management professionals, and health information technology professionals, all without compensation.
